There are templates for many occasions, and the text can be changed for your specific award or event. Create a certificate in Word as follow. Open Word and select New. In the Search certificate text box, type certificate to filter by certificate templates. Choose a template and select Create. The certificate opens as a new document. To add a custom border, select the Design tab and choose page borders in the Page Background group. In the Borders and Shader dialog box, select the Page Border tab. In the Setting section, select Custom and choose a border. Choose OK to apply the selected template border. To change the certificate colors, select a different theme. On the Design tab, select in the Color Document Format group. Hover over a theme to preview the theme in the document, and then select the color theme you want to use. Save the changes. The text of the certificate is fully editable. Edit the text to say what you want, and then change the font, color, and distance of the text. In the Word document, double-click the sample text to select it. Select the Home tab. In the Font group, choose a font and a font size. Select Bold, Cursi, or Underline if desired. Select the Font Color drop-down arrow, and choose a color that you want to apply to the text. Type the custom text you want to use. Repeat the process with each text section on the certificate and save the file. You don't need to use a template to create a certificate. By default, Microsoft opens to an 8.5 x 11 vertically oriented sheet, but most certificates are made in a landscape direction, so you'll make that change to get started. Create a certificate all over again: Open a new Word document. Select the Layout tab. In the Page Setup group, select Orientation, and then choose Landscape. Select the Design tab. Choose page borders. On the Page Border tab, select a style or artwork, assign a size and color, and then select the Box icon. Choose OK to see the result. To adjust the margins, select Options and enter new values. Add text boxes to the document and customize the display of font styles, sizes, and colors as desired. Save the changes to the custom template. how to use certificate templates and produce professional-looking award certificates in no time.
